The UK market fell slightly in March as worries over both economic recovery and the Eurozone crisis re-asserted themselves at the end of the month. The fund rose +0.6%, with positive contributors including Diploma (who released a positive trading statement), Petrofac and Coca Cola. Negative contributors included Sage, WS Atkins and Pearson.

We made some changes to the portfolio, including the sale of long-standing holding Domino Printing at the start of the month due to valuation concerns. Elsewhere we've reduced exposure to several other stocks where recent gains have left forward cash returns looking less attractive. On the buy side we initiated two new positions - Procter & Gamble and Jardine Lloyd Thompson. Both have a history of generating consistently high and stable returns on invested capital, but both have underperformed the market this year as more 'exciting' stocks have led the market higher. We've also rebuilt our holdings in Glaxosmithkline and Pearson. In general (though not exclusively), we are currently seeing best value in the more stable business models in our investable universe.

RISK WARNINGS

Full details of the TB Wise Funds, including risk warnings, are published in the TB Wise Funds Simplified Prospectus which is available on request. The TB Wise Funds are subject to normal stock market fluctuations and other risks inherent in such investments. The value of your investment and the income derived from it can go down as well as up, and you may not get back the money you invested. Capital appreciation in the early years will be adversely affected by the impact of initial charges and you should therefore regard your investment as medium-to-long term. As a concentrated portfolio of 20 to 30 investments Evenlode Income carries more risk than a fund spread over a large number of stocks. The fund has the ability to invest in derivatives for the purposes of EPM, which may restrict gains in a rising market. Investments in overseas equities may be affected by changes in exchange rates, which could cause the value of your investment to increase or diminish.
