MANAGER COMMENTARY

TB Evenlode Global Equity was flat in August, slightly lagging its comparator benchmark, the MSCI World Index. The index's modestly positive net performance masked a sharp mid-month reversal as equity markets stopped rallying, lagging the resumption in the upward movement of the US long bond yield at the start of the month - having declined from 3.48 in mid-June to 2.61 at the start of August, the US ten-year yield moved sharply up to 3.27 by the end of the month. This appears to reflect an awareness that while sequential comparators for inflation are moderating, the year-on-year comparators are still sobering.

This is the macro setting, which we set out here as useful context for the Fund's monthly performance, but which we would stress is not a major component of our investment process, which is dominated by individual company analysis. As we report on a monthly rhythm, our commentary is naturally drawn to the changes to rates which often drive short-term price action, whereas our day-to-day attention at work is overwhelmingly on the longer, slower factors which drive the economic performance of our portfolio companies.

Our perspective on the winter ahead reflects what company managements are saying to us when we meet them. They do not take strong macro-economic views but focus on items in their control. They ensure that they have liquid and under-levered balance sheets, that they have untapped reservoirs of pricing power accumulated through past and current reinvestment into their competitive advantages, and that their systems and people are ready to react rapidly to ongoing changes on both the supply and demand sides.

We made one major portfolio change in the month, selling our small position in AVEVA following the rumours of an approach by their corporate parent, Schneider Electric, to purchase the 40% interest they did not own. This took its price to fair value, particularly given our changed view on management alignment with minority interests. We had been disappointed to learn earlier in the year that the CEO had remained on the Schneider executives' long-term incentive plan (LTIP) and pension more than a year after moving to AVEVA, which we deemed to fall short of best practice.

As ever, we would like to thank all our investors for their trust and backing, and we continue to focus our efforts on preserving and growing your capital.

These targets cover 100% of our assets under management (AUM) and aim for the following: 100% of financed emissions in material sectors to be aligned, achieving net zero or under direct or collective engagement by end 2022; 50% of our AUM in material sectors to be aligning, aligned or achieving net zero by 2025 and 100% by 2030; 100% of AUM in material sectors to be net zero or aligned by 2040; 51.6% reduction in emissions per £10k invested across scopes 1, 2 and 3 by 2030.

These targets are in line with our goal of achieving net zero by 2050 or earlier for 100% of our AUM and importantly, cover 100% of our scope 1, 2 and 3 portfolio emissions.
